

As we prepare ourselves for this storm season, please reach out to your neighbors to see if they need assistance. As neighbors we are all in this together and helping a neighbor prepare will potentially reduce the burden on you after the storm if services and supplies are not available.

HELP YOUR NEIGHBOR.

Help Your Neighbor

Many people, especially senior citizens, rely on the assistance of neighbors before and after hurricanes. Help your neighbors collect the supplies they'll need before the storm. Assist them with evacuation if ordered to do so or check on them after it's safe for you to head outside. You may need to adjust your hurricane preparedness plans based on the latest health and safety guidelines from the CDC and your local officials.
