

There is no better time than now to start preparing for hurricane season. We already know we live in a hurricane zone along the coast and with the season kicking off with a strong start have you dusted off those plans for what YOU will do if we find ourselves in the crosshairs of a storm?

<https://www.weather.gov/wrn/2020-hurricane-evacuation>

DEVELOP AN EVACUATION PLAN.

Develop an Evacuation Plan

Find out today if you live in a hurricane evacuation zone and determine who issues evacuation orders for your area. Plan for multiple options on where you would go and how you would get there. Leave immediately if ordered to evacuate and be sure to plan for your pets.

Find out if you live in an evacuation zone

Plan your route out

Follow evacuation orders

Plan for your pets

While preparing for hurricane season, follow the latest health guidelines from the CDC and your local officials.

